

Mockup Review Notes

Hi Elena!

I love what you've done with the site mockup so far!! Your design choices of imagery, color, and typefaces work really well to get the point / mood across well. A few notes:

- I love that the navigation bar is a color that compliments or is the other house color for each page, and that for each page you're on the font for the title within the navigation bar gets changed to that other typeface! One thing - it might be easier when coding to have each word stay in the same place then have the title stay in the same place i.e. if Gryffindor starts on the left from the home page, it stays on the left on the Gryffindor page just changes to "GRIFFINDOR" in the uppercase font.
- I love what you did with the home page - the image works so well and the white typeface color was a great choice!
- On the home page, I'm not sure if you need the white line across? When actually scrolling, it might divide the page more than creating a cohesive scroll, especially because it appears between some sections and not others.
- The character pages look great! Maybe make the images slightly smaller with a little more room in between Honestly, not much more I can think of right now - it's looking awesome!! Hope you had a great Thanksgiving :)
